Subject: Continuation of Year-End Examinations and Contingency Arrangements Amid the Haze Situation

Dear Parents/Guardians,

In view of the haze situation in Singapore, San Yu Adventist School is closely monitoring the air quality and relevant advisories issued by the authorities. We would like to share the following arrangements to help families prepare while supporting our students' well-being and continued learning.

1. Home-Based Learning

Should MOE announce school closure due to the haze, regular lessons at SYAS will move to Home-Based Learning (HBL). This arrangement applies to regular lesson days; year-end examinations will continue as outlined in Section 2 below.

During HBL, students should remain at home and participate in the lessons and learning activities assigned by their teachers. Teachers will provide the HBL timetable and instructions for online lessons and assignments. The daily timetable may be adjusted to accommodate these arrangements.

Please ensure that your child/ward has access to a suitable learning device and an internet connection, and make arrangements for supervision at home.

2. Year-End Examinations

Year end examinations will proceed according to the existing timetable. Students should report to school for their examinations as usual unless otherwise informed by the school.

All examinations will be held in air-conditioned classrooms. A separate examination room equipped with an air purifier can be arranged for students with pre-existing respiratory conditions who require additional support.

We will continue to monitor the haze situation and inform parents/guardians promptly should any changes to the examination arrangements become necessary.

3. Health Precautions

Outdoor activities will be suspended or adjusted according to prevailing haze conditions and official health advisories. Teachers will remain attentive to students who show signs of discomfort or illness.

Please minimise your child's/ward's time outdoors, including while travelling to and from school. If considering an N95 mask, ensure that it is appropriately sized and fits properly, as adult-sized masks may not provide adequate protection for children. For children with respiratory or heart conditions, please seek medical advice on suitable precautions.

If your child/ward is unwell, please seek medical attention and notify the Form Teacher promptly if he/she is unable to attend an examination or participate in HBL.

4. Communication with Parents/Guardians

Announcements about HBL or changes to examination arrangements will be sent by SMS to the registered guardian in our school system. Form Teachers will also share these announcements through ClassDojo.

Please ensure that your registered contact details are up to date and check these channels regularly, particularly in the evening before a school day.

Thank you for your understanding and cooperation. We will continue to keep you informed as we work together to care for our students and support their learning during this period.

Thank you.

Yours sincerely,

School Management
